Screw steamers, with good accommodations for passengers, leave the different transportation docks every day for Buffalo.

The Result in the State.

In addition to the figures we published yesterday, we have the official returns, this morning, from Bad Ax, Kewaunee, Polk, St. Croix and Calumet Counties, and the reported results in Eau Claire, Dunn and Chippewa. This leaves only Douglas and La Pointe to hear from, which two years ago gave Cross (dem.) 160 majority. RANDALL is now 3,914 ahead, with 12 counties to hear from officially, and two from which no returns have yet been received. His majority in the State will not be far from four thousand. The other candidates on the Republican ticket, (with the exception of Mr. Treasurer HASTINGS, who runs far ahead,) will have about the same majority.

DEMOCRACY AND CHURCH MEMBERSHIP.—The Madison, Indiana, Courier, speaking of the indignation with which Democrats view all pulpit discourses which seem to call in question the immaculate purity of their party principles, says:

> We have made some inquiries concerning the church membership in the several political parties in our own city, and find that in one of the Presbyterian churches there is but one Democrat; in the other but two and a half; in Wesley Chapel none; in Roberts Chapel one, exclusive of a neophyte; in St. John's one or two; Baptist Church not reported; Episcopal, but one that we know of.

MURDOCK AS HAMLET.—Mr. J. E. MURDOCK is announced in the Chicago papers, to play at MCVICKER's Theatre, in the character of "Hamlet, Prince of Denmark," in which he has no equal. MCVICKER has taken measures to place the piece on the boards in a style never before attempted in the West, with new scenery, costumes and appointments throughout.

REPORTERS ENJOYING THEMSELVES.—The Boston papers speak of a "blow out" given and participated in by the reporters of that city, at which they imitated the subjects of their daily labors in speeches, and had the infinite satisfaction of knowing that they were all "chiels" and no one was "taken" notes.

THE WATERTOWN SENATOR.—The name of the Senator elect from the 14th district, is CHARLES R. GILL. The News, of Sunday, has it Gro. R. GILL. In its list of Assemblymen is the name ANDREW Eble, of Watwatosa, instead of ANDREW EBLE.

DR. CHEEVER'S BEGGING LETTER REPUDIATED.—The trustees of DR. CHEEVER'S Church have, by formal resolution, denied the authority of their pastor to send Miss JOHNSON to England on a begging mission on behalf of the church.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AT WAUKESHA.—An Institute under the appointment and general direction of Chancellor Barnard, agent of the Regents of Normal Schools, for the professional improvement of teachers, and the advancement of education generally, will be opened at Waukesha, at 4 o'clock P. M., of Thursday, November 24th.

Exercises, illustrative of the classification, instruction and management of Public Schools of different grades, will be conducted in the morning of each day, from 9 to 12 o'clock, and in the afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, by Prof. Ogden, assisted by Prof. Russell, and other competent teachers. These exercises will be interspersed with discussions on various topics, in which the difficulties, means and methods of school-teaching will be practically considered.

Particular attention will be given to the Culture of the Voice, and to reading, by Prof. Francis T. Russell, who will occupy a portion of each evening with illustrations of the subject.

At 4 o'clock each afternoon, and at 7 1-2 o'clock each evening, one or more addresses may be expected from the following gentlemen:

Chancellor Barnard—"On the Teacher's Institute and Professional Training of Teachers."

Prof. Allen of Pennsylvania—"On Progress of Science."

Prof. Butler of Madison—"On the Teacher's Incentive to Study."

Prof. Odgen of Cincinnati—"On Science of Teaching."

Prof. Bean of Waukesha—"On Language."

Readings from Schiller, by Prof. Russell.

Teachers, and those who are preparing to teach, from abroad, who enroll their names with the Secretary as in attendance, any time Thursday afternoon or on Friday forenoon, will be entertained by the citizens of Waukesha, during the session of the Institute.

THE CITY.

The Grain and Pork Trade.

The wheat market was quite tame yesterday and had a downward tendency until the New York report was received, when it became more buoyant, and closed steadily at Saturday's prices. Receipts were light, only 24,917 bus, and 2,222 bbls flour. The Railroads brought in 1,002 dressed hogs, and the market was firmer than on Saturday.—Our despatches from New York report an improvement of 1c in wheat and 5c in flour.

Young Men's Association.

The following Circular has been prepared by a Committee of the Young Men's Association. We commend to our readers its attentive perusal, and trust that the appeal which it contains will not be made in vain:

MILWAUKEE, November, 1859.

The benefits to be derived from a literary institution, conducted in the manner of the Young Men's Association of this city, are so obvious that it scarcely seems necessary to press them upon your notice; but there exists so much indifference in the public mind to its usefulness and advantages, that the Board of Directors feel compelled to come before you in this way, for the purpose of drawing your attention to the claims of the Association, and enlisting your sympathies in behalf of the objects which it proposes to accomplish.

It is to be regretted that an institution so well deserving the active support and encouragement of every citizen, should not be placed upon an independent basis, and thus beyond the necessity of such appeals as this. It is hardly to be believed that Milwaukee, which boasts of the public spirit and enterprise of its inhabitants—directed as these generally are to the advancement of praiseworthy objects—should allow the only place in her midst, devoted to supplying the intellectual wants of the community, to stand upon a foundation the most precarious imaginable, and to remain dependent upon the personal exertions of its managers and members for its very existence. A city like Milwaukee should have a Public Library and Reading Room, that its people could point to with pride, and in which they could take an interest, equal at least to what they do in many organizations of a less worthy and creditable nature. Such, however, is not the case. It is only by the most indefatigable efforts of the Board of Directors, continued from year to year, that the Association is floated along and ends made to meet. It does not number six hundred members in all, out of a population of sixty thousand; and its only source of revenue is the regular dues of the members, and occasionally a trifle realized from a lecture which has happened to be so fortunate as to draw a crowded house.—This income is barely adequate to meet the current expenses of the Association, and puts all enlargement of the Library and improvement of the Reading Room facilities entirely out of the question. Now it appears to us that this neglect on the part of our citizens, of an institution calling so loudly for their support and encouragement, arises mainly from a want of knowledge of its real character, and the benefits which it is so admirably adapted to confer.

In every large city there are too many places, the only object of which is to corrupt and destroy its young men, and too few devoted to the culture of their moral and intellectual natures, and the development of those powers which fit them for discharging the duties and responsibilities of society. Milwaukee is no exception to this rule, and it is lamentable to think how poorly the wants of our young men are provided for in this respect. Now, it is the object of the Young Men's Association to supply this need. It presents to all classes and conditions of people, a pleasant place of resort, a well selected Library, and a Reading Room supplied with all the best newspapers and periodicals in the country. No one will dispute the value of these facilities as a means of public improvement, and every citizen who has the welfare of this community at heart, should feel duty bound to aid in supporting an institution which places them within the reach of all. The man of business who seeks for steadiness and intelligence in his clerk; the father desirous of bringing his family under influences of a wholesome and elevating character; the philanthropist, striving for the elevation of the masses, are all interested in the success of an enterprise capable of aiding them in the accomplishment of their several ends. Even the capitalist will here find something worthy of his attention. The diffusion of knowledge and a taste for literature, in a community, is as essential to its success and prosperity as the building of Railroads, or the establishment of manufactures in its midst; and a city which has a reputation for the mental culture of its inhabitants, affords safer and better chances for investment, than one without such a character, all other things being equal.

We believe there is public spirit enough in Milwaukee, to place the Young Men's Association on a footing that will make it compare favorably with similar institutions in other cities, and we trust the time is not far distant, when those of our citizens who have the means, will come forward and by their liberality, place it in a position corresponding to its merits and share of usefulness.

Meanwhile the prosperity of the institution rests wholly with the personal endeavors of its members, and to them would we appeal. What is wanted NOW is an increase of membership, and every one can do something in this way. If every member would procure but one name to the list, the income of the Association would immediately be doubled; a circumstance which would go far toward relieving it from embarrassments which hinder its progress, and cripple its usefulness.

To those who are not members of the Association, we would respectfully solicit their attention to this call. We feel assured that a little consideration will lead them to perceive the value of the Association, and to identify themselves with its interests and advantages. The annual subscription is only $2,00—an amount which bears no proportion to the benefits and pleasures to be reaped from its holding in this direction. A weekly newspaper costs that, while for the same sum all the leading journals from every section of the country; the best magazines, home and foreign; and a library of 4,000 volumes in every department of literature, and comprising many valuable works of reference which few private individuals can afford to own, are placed within the reach of the member of the Young Men's Association. These facts require no words to increase their weight, and need only to be stated to bring conviction to the mind of every one who peruses them.

It not being generally understood, we wish to state that the ladies are equally eligible to membership with gentlemen. We regret to say that not more than five or six have hitherto availed themselves of this privilege; a fact which we should be unwilling to have interpreted as a criterion of the literary tastes and culture of the ladies of our city. We may also mention in this place, that boys have the same privileges with the senior members of the Association.

It has been customary for the Association to provide a course of Lectures during the winter, but after mature deliberation, the Board of Directors have decided not to make up any regular course the present season.—The difficulty of making connections with other Associations, and the impossibility of procuring a hall beforehand, so as to meet engagements made with lecturers, might lay the Association open to pecuniary liabilities, which it cannot run the risk of incurring in its present state of finances. The Board will, however, do all in its power to bring on such lecturers, from time to time, as it can make satisfactory arrangements with: and several gentlemen of eminent ability have already been engaged, and will in due time be announced.

In conclusion, we hope this appeal will not be made in vain. The pride and honor of the city, its reputation abroad, and the intellectual improvement and elevation of its people, are all concerned in the prosperity of this institution. We feel confident that the public mind needs only to be fully awakened upon this subject, to place the Association in a healthy and flourishing condition. We earnestly solicit, therefore, that every person into whose hands this circular falls, will feel a personal responsibility in giving it an immediate and generous response.

AT THE SCHILLER FESTIVAL in Milwaukee, last week, an individual whose education is supposed to have been neglected, inquired if Mr. Schiller was to be present and speak?—Buffalo Express.

That individual has been asking that question (through the papers) for the last ten years. We congratulate him on his safe arrival at Milwaukee.

Board of Aldermen.

MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 21.

Five members present; His Honor, the Mayor in the chair.

A resolution authorizing the Comptroller to exchange school lots on Grove for sites on Hanover street, being of the nature of an ordinance was read thrice and adopted.

The resolution instructing the Chief of Police to clear all streets and slips on the Milwaukee river, concurred in.

A petition, accompanied with a resolution relative to the paving, &c., of Beers street adopted.

The resolution authorizing the placing of two of PERKINS' fluid lamps on the Menomonee bridge, concurred in.

His Honor, the Mayor submitted a communication from S. DRAPER, detailing an account of a meeting of bond-holders in New York. His Honor thought the matter should be referred to a joint Railroad Committee. Alderman PRENTISS was of opinion it should be referred to the Finance Committee. On motion referred to joint Railroad Committee.

A resolution, offered by Alderman WEST, rescinding the former resolution of the Board which related to the buying of city taxes, on the ground that a recent decision of the Supreme Court rendered them unconstitutional. Resolution adopted.

Alderman WEST then offered a new resolution conforming to the requirements of the law. Adopted.

A resolution in favor of appropriating $780 to STODDARD H. MARTIN. Adopted.

The Select Committee, to whom was referred the matter of a City Hall in Market Square, reported in favor of concurring with the Board of Councilors.

Alderman PHELPS wished to know whether there were any communications received on this subject offering facilities elsewhere.

The Clerk read a communication from BYRON KILBOURN, stating that a fire proof room could be obtained on Water Street, above Spring, in his new block, at a much less sum than would be required to remove to Market Hall.

Ald. PUELPS was in favor of deferring the whole matter until further inquiries had been made.

Ald. PRENTISS said that the original project was to stop a big leak in the city funds, which was caused by paying rent. That the building in question virtually belonged to the city and could be refitted at a cost of less than $5,000.

Ald. PHELPS was in favor of the west side for several reasons besides the fear of fire.—He was not satisfied that it was wise to go into the arrangement. He said that there was little doubt but the expense would amount in the whole, before the city got through with it, to forty or fifty thousand dollars. It was reasonable to suppose that the Market House could be fitted up to satisfy any Common Council for the next twenty years.

Ald. PRENTISS said there was no need of alarm in regard to expenditure. The plan of the architect contemplated fitting up the building with offices and large arched hall, and putting in a new front, did not exceed $4,000.

A debate here arose on a parliamentary question.

Ald. PHELPS finally moved the reference of the matter, together with the proposition of Mr. KILBOURN or any other parties, to a select committee. Motion lost.

The question then was on the amendment offered by Ald. PHELPS, which stipulated that the expense should not exceed $5,000, and that a reasonable settlement could be effected with Mr. CROSS. The amendment was lost. The question then was on concurring with the Board of Councilors, which was adopted—5 for and 3 members against.

THIS MORNING CALEB WALL sells at his Auction Room, the lot in BOORE'S Addition. Great chance to invest and get a home for a small sum of money, and on easy terms. Wednesday morning, he has a great sale of Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, &c., &c.

Thursday, November 24th, he will attend to no business, that being Thanksgiving Day; and he thinks that no one who is possessed of any gratitude, will attend to any business that day.

Saturday morning, November 26th, he will sell a private Library. See his advertisement.

PARK FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, of New York, with a capital of $200,000 and a surplus of over $100,000, has appointed O. ALEXANDER, Esq., their Agent in this city. This Company commenced business in 1853—its capital is all invested in first class Bonds and Mortgages—(the only sound and reliable securities)—no railroad or other stocks are held by them. The stock in this Company has sold in New York within the last three months as high as 162 1-2, and is quoted in Wall Street at 150@155. The Western Branch Office is located in this city, with GEORGE BAKER as General Agent.

WE DESIRE TO CALL ATTENTION to the advertisement of Messrs. OGDEN & WALL, which will be found in another column. We believe the move to be a good one, as our merchants and others have long felt the need of having some person in one of the Eastern cities competent to transact the various matters of business daily arising.

THE "IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT."—We learn that the Rev. N. A. STAPLES will deliver a discourse upon this subject on Thanksgiving Day. The ability of this young Divine is too well known to leave a doubt but that this will be a masterly effort.

HORSE RAIL ROADS.—A number of men are busily at work in the Lumber Yard of J. L. MCVICKAR, Walker's Point, in getting out the ties and string pieces for the Horse Rail Road on the East side of the river.

YESTERDAY was a dark day. The rain fell continuously, mud abounded, and things generally kept snug out of the damp.

TO-NIGHT the Musical Society give their ninety-ninth Concert at Albany Hall. The programme is worth reading.

GIFT ENTERPRISE.—The drawing of Mrs. F. J. Fox's Gift Enterprise, of superb Oil Paintings, will come off on Saturday evening Nov. 26th, at REIS' Hall in the Market House. More than two-thirds of the tickets have already been taken, and no doubt the rest will be sold before the evening of the drawing. The husband of the persevering and enterprising lady who has gotten up this enterprise, is an Artist, of our city, whose health has failed him, and she takes this method of disposing of some of the productions of his studio. The leading prize is the "Battle of Bunker Hill," valued at $125.—It may be seen at MR. NOYES' furniture ware rooms, nearly opposite the Sentinel building. Tickets only 50 cents each—to be obtained of Mrs. FOX, or at HOOD's Auction Store, HARRY BINGHAM's and the American Hotel. The Paintings will remain on exhibition at NOYES' Furniture Rooms and HOOD's Auction Store until distributed among the holders of lucky tickets. nov21d5t

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Arrival of the Steamer Canada.

SACKVILLE, Nov. 19.

The express from Halifax with news by the Canada, arrived to-night.

It is asserted that the English Government has consented to join the proposed European Congress for the settlement of the Italian difficulty, and that France and England had completely agreed on the basis of a treaty of peace. It is vaguely reported in the European journals that Garibaldi, in his interview with King Victor Emanuel, made use of strong expressions with regard to the proposed settlement of present difficulties—declaring that Italy has been betrayed by her pretended friends, and that he would head a revolution of the people to carry out the original plans. The King of Sardinia protested against such a proceeding.

The steamship Great Eastern has arrived at Southampton.

Hon. Charles Sumner, of Massachusetts, is among the passengers by the Canada.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.—Breadstuffs are generally quiet

Wheat and corn had slightly declined.

A new steamship has been ordered by the Cunard Company, which is to be 500 tons larger than the Persia.

Great activity prevailed at the Woolwich arsenal, in the preparation of material for the coast defence, and for the expedition against China.

The fortifications at Dover are to be extended forthwith, and several batteries are to be constructed.

GENEVA, Oct. 16—The assemblies of Central Italy will, it is stated, confer the regency on Prince Carignano. Modena and Romagna will take part in it. It is asserted that the object would be to present Count Cavour as a candidate for Dictator of one province of Central Italy.

A Paris telegraph despatch says that the English and French Governments have completed and agreed on the basis of a Congress which will gather at Brussels. All that remains to be settled is the official ratification from the British Government.

The plenipotentiaries have received orders to sign the treaty of peace, and it is believed it will be signed to-morrow, and a convocation, to be held at Paris, will follow immediately.

In the London money market on Saturday, consols were quoted at 96 1-4@96 1-8.

The bullion in the Bank of England has decreased £82,000 during the week.

The Excitement at Harper's Ferry.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 20.

It is authoritatively stated that the present movement of troops is more to quiet the alarmed population of the upper counties, and by the presence of an overpowering force prevent any further attempt at rescue, which might otherwise result in bloody work, than from fears of the approach of any armed body of men from Ohio or elsewhere. It was known that it was Gov. Wise's intention to order a regiment to Charlestown in a few days for camp duty, previous to execution, but the prevalence of these groundless alarms has tended to accelerate the movement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.

The regiment from Richmond, accompanied by Gov. Wise, arrived here at 7 o'clock a. m. and will leave for Charlestown on a special train, at 10 o'clock. Nothing has been received confirmatory of the story of a body of men having crossed the Ohio near Wheeling. The Petersburg battalion of four companies arrived here this p. m. and are awaiting instructions from the Governor.

HARPER'S FERRY, Nov. 19.

Various rumors have been afloat to-day as to the approach of armed men from Ohio in the vicinity of Wheeling. The respectable source from which the report originated, has created some excitement about Charlestown, but none here. Our people are very quiet, not expecting any attempt at present; nor do they fear any force, however formidable, because they are prepared for any emergency.

The numerous lies about Charlestown have induced the citizens to anticipate some annoyance; they are more easily excited, but none is at all afraid of the result, even if an attempt should be made. Col. Davis has made most ample provisions for any number of the enemy who may make a call.

I learn that more troops are demanded.—This may be to protect the prisoners from the populace. There is no danger to apprehend, as far as I can learn.

SUNDAY EVE.—The fresh excitement was caused by the arrival from Bellair, near Wheeling, of a man named Smith Crane, who stated that he had accidentally overheard a conversation between some men who had organized a band of five hundred men to release Brown and the other prisoners at Charlestown. He immediately set out for Harper's Ferry to apprize the inhabitants.

It was also rumored at Charlestown that a fight had occurred in Clarke County, between some citizens and a party of strangers; and a detachment was sent to the place of disturbance. Col. Davis sent despatches to Gov. Wise for 500 more troops, who have arrived here this evening. The Governor is with them, and our town is again bristling with bayonets, and the people are considerably excited.

Wise says it will give Virginia military experience, and she will know how to protect her borders hereafter. He, with three companies left for Charlestown to-day.

N. Y. and N. Jersey Elections.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.

The last computations at Albany, founded upon complete official returns from all the counties in the State, New York and Kings excepted, increase the majority for Mr. Jones, for Secretary of State, while they leave the result of the Canal Commissioner in doubt. At present the majorities stand as follows: Jones, 1,164; Richmond, 104; Skinner, 378; and Forest, 450. It will only be when the full returns of New York and Kings are received, that the result will be accurately ascertained. The vote on Canal Loan, so far as reported by official returns, is: 96,543 in favor and 68,170 against. Majority in favor, 28,373. Nineteen counties are not yet reported.

The official returns of the New Jersey election, show Olden's (Opposition) majority to be 1,629. The vote in Morris County was the largest ever cast.

The Northern States of Mexico to be Seized.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.

A special despatch from Washington to the Republican says:

Government this morning determined to seize the northern states of Mexico, and orders have been issued for six companies of heavy artillery from Fort Monroe, and two companies of light artillery, and three companies of infantry, from Fort Leavenworth, to proceed immediately to Brownsville.

The Republican learns that Col. Sumner commander of this department, telegraphed from Leavenworth this evening for prompt movement of troops. In compliance with this order, and in a week, if necessary, these troops will be in New Orleans.

The Republican intimates that security for the future will be wanted in a better boundary than that established by the Rio Grande.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—3 P. M.

The sloop-of-war Congress was at Bahia on Oct. 23d, and reports all well.

The steamship North Star is signalled below, confirming the intelligence before received of her safety.

The steamship North Star from Aspinwall arrived at this port to-day. On her outward passage, she was on the reef at French Keys for six days, and in order to relieve her, upwards of 400 tons of coal were thrown overboard. All her passengers were landed before the ship got off.

The sloop-of-war Brooklyn was at Key West on the 16th.

The ship N. Larrabee, from New Orleans, bound to Liverpool, sank off Tybee.

The funeral obsequies by the fire department in honor of the memory of the late U. S. Senator of California, Hon. David C. Broderick, which had been for sometime contemplated, and postponed for various reasons, took place yesterday, and was witnessed by many thousands of persons.

From Texas.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.

The Arizonia arrived from Brazos with $720,000.

Brownsville is safe. Capt. Tobin with 80 rangers arrived on the 13th. Thirty men from Cutter Dodge, and 50 from Baton Rouge left Brazos for Brownsville on the 16th—making nearly 300 troops and volunteers now there. On the arrival of Tobin, Cortinas' chief officer, held as prisoner, was hung without trial.

THE SENTINEL.

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY & WEEKLY.

RUFUS KING, EDITOR.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 22, 1859.

PROCLAMATION—THANKSGIVING.

ANOTHER YEAR, with its varied experiences and vicissitudes, has nearly gone, the seed time and harvest have passed away, and the products of the earth more than usual, abundant and excellent, in many respects than usual, have been gathered in. Our State has been favored by an overruling Providence with exemption from pestilence or any prevailing disease, and the commercial and financial distress, under which our land has so long suffered, seems to be approaching an end. As a State we have been free from evil disturbances, and men have gone about their daily avocations in peace and quietness. As a nation, too, we have been exempted from the scenes of blood which have been the result in other lands of the shock of contending hosts.

It is right that we should, as a people, render the tribute of our thanks to the Author of all good, for the establishment and continuance of our free institutions, for the general health and prosperity of our people, for the blessings of peace, for the privileges of free education, and freedom to worship God according to the dictates of conscience, and for all the unnumbered blessings, individual and national, so bountifully showered upon us.

Therefore, in accordance with the time-honored usage, I do hereby recommend to the people of Wisconsin that they observe THURSDAY, THE 24th DAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT, as a day of THANKSGIVING, and that, abstaining from their secular avocations on that day, they unite in their several localities in grateful praise to Almighty God, for his constant care and abundant mercies.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused the Great Seal of the L. S. State to be affixed.

Done at Madison, this 25th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine.

By the Governor,
ALEX. W. RANDALL.
J. D. RUGGLES, Ass't Secretary of State. oct26

An Arbitrary Statute.

The letter of S. G. HOWE has turned public attention to a United States Statute, hitherto little noticed, but which gives an alarming stretch of power to Federal Judges, by which the citizens of any State are in peril of sudden arrest and forcible extradition, without the least regard to State authorities. The following is the Statute referred to:

Acts of Congress of 1848, Aug. 8.—Chap. 98. That on the application of any Attorney of the United States for any district, and upon satisfactory proof of the materiality of the testimony of any person who shall be a competent witness, and whose testimony shall, in the opinion of any Judge of the United States, be necessary upon the trial of any criminal cause or proceeding in which the United States shall be a party or interested, any such Judge may compel such person, so required or deemed by him necessary as a witness, to give recognizance, with or without sureties, in his defalcation, to appear on the trial of said cause or proceeding and give his testimony therein; and, for that purpose, the Judge may issue a warrant against such person, under his hand; with or without seal, directed to the marshal or other officer authorized to execute civil process in behalf of the United States, to arrest such person and carry him before such Judge. And, in case the person so arrested, shall neglect or refuse to give said recognizance in the manner required by said Judge, the said Judge may issue a warrant of commitment against such person, which shall be delivered to said officer, whose duty it shall be to convey such person to the prison mentioned in said mittimus. And the said person shall remain in confinement until he shall be removed to the court for the purpose of giving his testimony, or until he shall have given the recognizance required by said Judge.

It is difficult to believe that the framers of this act designed to give the unprecedented power which its terms do give. By it, it will be seen, a citizen of New York, on the action of a United States District Attorney in Arkansas, may be arrested by a Marshal and carried off to the latter State, where, in refusing to comply with the wishes of the Judge who has issued the warrant, perhaps from being unable to give any testimony, he shall be thrown into prison for such length of time as shall suit the Judge. The bare statement of such a case reveals the enormity of the statute which renders it possible. State rights and individual rights are alike trampled upon by such an enactment. We trust that no such statute will be allowed to remain in force after the next session of Congress. No matter by what parties or in what interests it may be used, its use can only engender such abuses as never ought to be tolerated under a government of laws.

MORPHY.—Mr. MORPHY, on Friday evening, the 11th inst., sat on the stage at the Academy of Music, in Philadelphia, where he could not see the boards, and played four games of chess simultaneously with WM. G. THOMAS, B. C. TILGHMAN, SAMUEL SMYTH and Doctor SAMUEL LEWIS. He began by announcing his first move, "Pawn to King's Fourth on all the tables." Chess tables were distributed among the audience, and the moves were repeated with the liveliest interest, while a battery of opera glasses were levelled at the champion. Messrs. THOMAS and TILGHMAN boldly accepted the gambit offered by Mr. MORPHY, but Messrs. LEWIS and SMYTH refused, playing close games. They began a little after six, and the contest was closed at half-past nine, by the surrender of the four gentlemen, with their eyes open, in the following order: TILGHMAN in 2 1-2 hours and 24 moves; LEWIS in 2 3-4 hours and 25 moves; THOMAS and SMYTH each in 3 1-4 hours and 33 moves.—Mr. MORPHY had previously announced that he would play no more blindfold games, but he was induced by the ladies of the Mount Vernon Association to depart from his resolution on this occasion, which proved to be one of great popular interest.

THE HINDOOS.—Mr. GANGOOLY, a converted Brahmin, is lecturing in New York. He says the Hindoos are divided into thirty-four castes, of which the Brahmin is the highest, and the banker, goldsmith and shoemaker among the lowest. The blacksmith is of a high caste, because of his usefulness. If a Brahmin eats animal food he loses his caste, which he can never regain. The birth of a male child is always made the occasion of great rejoicing, while the birth of a female child was hardly noticed. The mother of five or six girls was always the subject of scorn and derision, and never went into society.

There were but three castes in India that could not read or write. The strictest attention is given to the education of boys in India, while girls never go to school. The discipline of Brahmin life in some instances were grand. A Brahmin rises as early as five o'clock, walks out and gathers flowers, and bathes before the sun rises; if the sun sees one of this class in bed, the fourteen generations of his ancestors will be punished in eternity. Brahmins must keep silent while at the table; if they speek while eating, they are obliged to go without food the entire day.

CONDENSED CIDER.—The Messrs. BORDEN of Winstead, Ct., who have been so successful in solidifying milk, have also accomplished the solidification of sweet cider. By the vacuum process the cider, taken sweet from the press, is reduced five gallons to one, without boiling, and a beautiful jelly is the result, which will keep for any length of time without mould, souring or fermentation of any kind. By the addition of water it is immediately restored to its former condition, and becomes cider again. All that is lost by the process is the impurities that may exist in the primary apple juice, and the green sickish taste. The restored cider is much like a drink of prepared tamarinds, but is more delicate and palatable. The concealed article is a beautiful wine colored jelly, and is excellent for the table, either with meats or as a dessert. When reduced and bottled with a proper delay, the article so "extended" will ferment and become a superior sparkling champagne cider.

THE HEALTH OF GERRIT SMITH.—The host of personal friends of GERRIT SMITH, will rejoice to learn, from most credible authority, says the New York Tribune, that Dr. GRAY in Utica has given his family the encouragement to feel that the afflicted gentleman will be entirely restored to mental health. It is also his opinion that Mr. SMITH'S bodily health will be re-established So prostrated was he when he arrived at Utica, that it was the opinion of his physician that he would not have survived forty-eight hours longer, had he remained at his home.

A LEFT-HANDED COMPLIMENT.—The News has the following civil reference to the proposed revival of the Argus at Madison, by Messrs. CALKINS and DRURY:

> We are informed by E. A. Calkins, late of the Madison Argus, later of the Milwaukee Daily National, both dead, that himself and L. H. Drury, late of the Berlin Democrat, discontinued, are about starting a paper in Madison. Cage Coal is a better place.

Call you that "backing your friends?"

The Perils of the Sea.

A graphic and thrilling sketch of the saving of the forty-two persons from the sinking schooner Jean Martin, by the steamer Hungarian, is published in The Portland Advertiser. On the 9th of November the steamer was on her way to Portland, one hundred and fifty miles due east from St. Johns, when two men were seen in the rigging of the unfortunate vessel, holding between them the British flag, union down.

"Man this life-boat, Mr. Hardie," said Captain Jones.

With great difficulty the boat was launched, for every sea rolled and dashed furiously up the sides of the steamer. A block struck Hardie in the face, and he was soon covered with blood, but he stuck bravely to his work.

In its passage to the sinking vessel, the little boat disappeared entirely from view many times in the trough of the sea, but rose again, and pushed forward under the strokes of five able bodied and noble tars. The schooner was rolling terrifically, at the mercy of the waves; but the boat was cautiously brought near enough to put Mr. Porter, 3d officer of the Hungarian, on board. Men, women and children were thrown into the life-boat as opportunity offered, and, after all were safe, Mr. Porter searched the schooner to see that none were overlooked. Again the little shell rose upon the waves and disappeared in the trough, until she reached the steamer. Hardie steadied the helm, and gave orders to the oarsmen, while Porter tied ropes around the waist of one after another, until all were hoisted over the railing of the ship.

A great sea now struck the life-boat, dashed it against the ship, and pitched Hardie into the sea. It was impossible to swim. Life-preservers were instantly thrown over to him, but, in spite of all efforts, he was sinking under the steamer's side, when he accidentally caught a line that hung in the water, and by which he pulled himself to the surface. He was drawn on board and met by a hearty cheer as he climbed over the gunwale.

The Captain of the Martin well-deserved to be saved. He had a shipwrecked party on board his own vessel at the time, rescued by his exertions. The schooner had been without fire for several days, and the people were nearly famished.

THE LATE M. J. THOMAS.—The citizens of the town of Empire, Fond du Lac County, the residence of the late M. J. THOMAS, being assembled Nov. 8th, 1859, the following resolutions were offered by GUSTAVUS DE NEVEN, and seconded in a few appropriate and feeling remarks by Hon. ELIHU L. PHILLIPS. They were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, By the citizens of the town of Empire, that we wish to express our unfeigned sorrow for the sudden and untimely end of our esteemed neighbor and fellow-townsman, M. J. Thomas, Esq., late U. S. Marshal for the State of Wisconsin, and we tender to his sorrowing family our deep and heartfelt sympathies in their bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of the above resolution be transmitted to the family of the departed, and that the above be published in the Fond du Lac city papers.

Attest: A. T. GERMOND,
Chairman of Town of Empire.
GEORGE KEYS, Town Clerk.

FREEDOM OF OPINION AT THE SOUTH.—The Washington Constitution has a vehement attack upon Hon. EDWARD BATES, as "about the only Southern Abolitionist in existence." Except his approval of the Fugitive Slave Law, it sees no difference between his position and that of GIDDINGS. It is quite sure the body of the Republican Party will never accept a man "so ineffably inferior to CORWIN as Mr. BATES," and that, in the South, "there is not a corporal's guard who dare to sustain a man who holds in substance the same opinions as Gov. SEWARD."

The Nebraska Election Fraud.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

OMAHA, Nebraska, Nov. 7, '59.

The fraud has been consummated. The Democratic party of Nebraska has proved faithful to its party antecedents in Kansas. Returns which were known to be most scandalously fraudulent have been allowed, and Gen. Estabrook, Dem., has received the certificate of election as Delegate to Congress. At a bogus precinct called Buffalo county, an unorganized portion of the Territory, near Fort Kearney, soldiers and returning miners voted, and 292 votes were returned for Estabrook, and not one for Daily, Rep., while it was well known that there would not have been 50 legal voters there provided such part of the Territory had been organized.

In Lean qui Court County only 33 votes were cast, and 93 were officially returned for Estabrook. The poll-list was filled up, after the polls had been closed, with fictitious names and names of former residents. Other frauds of a similar nature have been perpetrated. The official vote, as canvassed, stands: For Estabrook, 3,100; for Daily, 2,800.

Deducting only the frauds of Buffalo and Lean qui Court Counties, would give Daily a majority of 85. If all the frauds could be sifted, it would probably be much more.

Daily is the legally elected delegate from Nebraska, and will eventually get his seat.—He has given Gen. Estabrook legal notice that he shall contest his seat at Washington, which, for the good name of our Territory, we might wish otherwise, as our two previous elections of Delegate have both been contested, but it is better to stand by the right than tamely to submit to tyranny from an unscrupulous minority. H.

THE RICHMOND ENQUIRER is getting decidedly crazy on the subject of JOHN BROWN and his sympathizers and supposed aiders and abettors. It appears that the Clarke Journal, a weekly newspaper of Virginia, has seen fit in the way of business to publish as an advertisement, the prospectus of the Tribune for the next year. Thereupon the editor of that journal is denounced by the Enquirer as "a hired disseminator of Abolition treason," "the very man of all others to tamper with slaves, to run them off, or if he has the courage to do so, to lead the van of a servile insurrection." It boots not that the Clarke Journal is a Democratic print bearing at the head of its editorial column the name of Robert M. T. Hunter for President, and of Daniel S. Dickinson for Vice-President. In fact, the name of Mr. Hunter in this conspicuous position seems rather to inflame the wrath of the Enquirer, which suggests that the friends of that gentleman have a particular call to take the matter in hand. Whether to publish the prospectus of the Tribune be not by the laws of Virginia an offense punishable by fine and imprisonment in the county jail, is a question which the Enquirer recommends to the attention of the prosecuting officer of the county. Meanwhile it is certain that under the supreme law of slaveholding, a sheet guilty of such an incendiary publication ought to be at once suppressed, and the editor of it to be forthwith lynched—at least that is the interpretation which most people will be apt to give under the particular circumstances of the case, to the recommendation not to lynch him.

The Enquirer recommends that in place of the Clarke Journal, the subscribers to it should substitute the New York Observer, as a reward for the manful defence by that paper of the rights of the slaveholders, and especially of the propriety of hanging BROWN. We are glad to find that there is one Northern journal left which the Enquirer can recommend for circulation in Virginia. Since the Journal of Commerce was prostituted, we had begun to despair upon that point.

But how long even the Observer will continue to enjoy the favor of the Enquirer, must be considered as doubtful. Every day it narrows the circle of its charities, every day it puts forth new denunciations. It is not alone the Republican party and the Tribune, it is not alone those Democrats who think it might be more polite to pardon Brown than to hang him, against whom the Enquirer hurls its anathemas. It has already got so far as to include within the same curse all those Southern men who are inclined any low er to make any concession to Northern sentiment, and, for that matter, all who are not ready to insist on Governor WISE, as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. —N. Y. Tribune.

A WOMAN'S LITTLE TOES.—The "good things of this life—beautiful women and canvass-back ducks."—Taunton Gazette.

Can a woman be whole-souled with her little toe cut off—asks the New York Home Journal, and says, this is to become an interesting point of Fifth Avenuedity, as the Peruvian custom of amputation of the fifth toe, to make the foot pointed and small, is beginning to prevail in Paris. At Lima it is the rule to perform this operation on the female infant in the cradle. But a Peruvian physician now advertising in Paris, offers to perform it on grown up persons, warranting that they shall not be confined to the house more than one week. If this fashion should become universal, the male sex will, we think, be the completest in toe toe!—Boston Post.

The Expulsion of Mr. Hoar from Charlestown.

To the Editor of the New York Tribune—SIR:—In order that the conduct of the people and authorities of the Town of Charlestown, Va., in recently expelling Mr. Jewett, of Frank Leslie's paper, and myself from that locality may be perfectly exposed and understood, I deem it proper to make a brief statement of the facts in the case.

My return from Boston to that town was heralded by the press, and the object of my visit announced days before I reached there. My business was known to be legitimate. I went back to do what was possible to rescue and recover the scattered effects of Capt. Brown, in order that the avails of the sale might be secured to his destitute and heart-stricken family. My business also related to the copies of the record in the other cases, intending to obtain and transmit them seasonably to counsel who were to argue the exceptions in the Court of Appeals. Because I was regularly associated in the trial, and known to be actively engaged in the defence of Brown and Coppie, no man had the right to accuse me, upon bare suspicion, without a particle of evidence to confirm it, of being an agent of "Boston Abolitionists."

I could not fail to observe immediately upon my return, that where I had formerly been treated with studious civility, I had now to meet the inhospitable frown; and where before I at least was permitted to pass without insult, I must expect offensive and opprobrious epithets, and denunciations not the least vulgar. I cannot say I did not expect this, for, when first a sojourner in the town, I had concluded it was no genuine, but a forced civility, which allowed the counsel of John Brown to perform their sad duties unmolested. I saw a deep under-current of feeling smothered for the time, by a desire to be rated fair, all ready, at the slightest breath, to burst into consuming madness. But, so long as their prisoner lay in his prison cell, waiting his fast-approaching doom, and the decision of the higher Court, I felt certain the "chivalry of the Old Dominion" would attempt no bodily violence to his counsel.

I had expected the copies of the record would be ready for me to bear to Washington on Saturday morning, but I failed to obtain them, and had concluded to wait a later train, when the singular "proclamation" of Mayor Green (who, it will be remembered, was of Mr. Brown's counsel in the first instance,) fell into my hands. My surprise was great when a gentleman intimated that my case was referred to in that document, and that my friend, Mr. Jewett, was also included. I sought Mr. Jewett, and found him pondering over the extraordinary production. I informed him what I had heard, and after a debate as to whether two individuals whose business was so well known, and whose characters were privileged, had any right to take this as a notice to quit,"?

Mr. J. sought Col. Davis, Chairman, of the body constituted and authorized by this curious paper to act in the premises, and demanded to know if it had any reference to us. Col. Davis accompanied him to my presence, and in answer to a direct interrogatory, plainly said it did. He further informed us that, although aid-de-camp to Gov. Wise, and under instructions to preserve the peace, he had no force at his command upon which he could rely to protect us from the mob, which would assemble the next day (Sunday).—He was willing to lay down his own life in our defense, but it could be of no avail, and he conjured us, for our own sakes, and for sake of the honor of the State of Virginia, and in consideration of the trifling personal inconvenience such a sacrifice would be to him and those dependent upon him, to leave that afternoon.

Although I had seen considerable excitement in the place during the first days of the trial and afterward, I confess I never had seen anything like the wild foment in which the town was this afternoon thrown. Some spiteful enemy had set fire to a Mr. Tate's stable, and the over-zealous fire-eating "chivalry" who, from the time of our first advent in the place, had striven to make our visit uncomfortable, and our efforts futile, and who had never ceased their causeless and ridiculous denunciations, eagerly took hold on the occasion to spread the report that they were "Abolition emissaries" acting under my directions, who had set the torch to the wheat stacks and barns.

What I feared most was an attack on the jail, in which the military would participate. I have some good reasons for believing that there was a band of organized desperadoes who, at one time, determined to force the jail and lynch the prisoners. This was seasonably discovered, and prevented, by an officer in command. Now, if a mob of drunken and infuriate people, should assemble to drive obnoxious people out of town with the genteel incidents of "tar and feathers," and not over-fresh eggs, such a mob would be more than likely to make an attempt on that little prison-house, and, by way of parenthesis, let me say, I think the gallows a pleasanter instrument of torture and death than the torments of a Virginia mob.

Deeming it no valor but sheer foolhardiness to brave the populace, Mr. Jewett and I packed our bags and quitted the municipality of Charlestown, the County of Jefferson, and the gallant old Commonwealth of Virginia. At this time I do not know whether my associate, Mr. Sennott, survived the Sabbath which ensued upon our departure or not.—Being an avowed political friend of the South, he was not so unpopular as the undersigned, who never knew how to "cotton." It is to be hoped that those who remain or go to serve John Brown in a legal capacity, may not meet the same sort of "hospitality" and "courteous" treatment which the "chivalry" bestowed upon

Yours truly, GEO. H. HOYT.

Denial of Gerrit Smith's being a Slave Owner

OSWEGO, Nov. 5, 1859.

"Marylander," in the Herald of the 1st or 2d inst., would have your readers believe that Mrs. James G. Birney and Mrs. Gerrit Smith inherited slaves from their father, and that their husbands sold the slaves and pocketed the avails.

Neither Mrs. Birney nor Mrs. Smith inherited slaves. The slaves left in Maryland by my father, when he removed to this State, remained in possession of my brother, the late Wm. H Fitzhugh, of Hagerstown. After my father's death these slaves were set free by the joint contribution of their owner, Wm. H. Fitzhugh, before mentioned, Dr. D. H. Fitzhugh, of Mount Morris, Livingston Co., and my sisters, Mrs. Birney, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Tallman.

When Mrs. Smith was a child, a servant girl was given her by a friend of the family. This girl was taken by one of my brothers to Kentucky, and afterwards with her husband (Sam Russell) and their children, came into possession of Mr. Worthington, of Mississippi, from whom they were purchased by Gerrit Smith, set free, and brought to this State, at an expense of some $4,000. Gerrit Smith never sold a slave, or bought one, except to set him free. James G. Birney was at one time a slaveholder, whether by inheritance or purchase, or both, I know not. When he became an abolitionist he emancipated his slaves. If he ever bought a slave afterwards, it was doubtless for the purpose of setting him free. Will "Marylander" now have the magnanimity publicly to acknowledge himself in error. If he does this justice to himself, he will still have the regret or satisfaction, as the case may be, of knowing that his unjust imputations against these most worthy men have been read and believed by thousands whom his retraction may never reach.

The Bank of Chatfield, Minnesota.

THE STOCK OF THIS BANK IS OWNED by Selah Chamberlain, and it is recorded in his name on the Books of the Bank, and in the State Auditor's Office, except thirteen shares owned by Geo. H. Williams and others.

The Banking law under which this Bank is organized, makes each and every Stockholder personally and individually liable, and bonded for double the amount of stock owned by him or her, in case any of the following provisions in section twenty-one of the "Act to authorize the business of Banking, approved March 6th, 1858," are violated, viz: Stockholders in each Bank shall be individually liable in amount equal to double the amount of stock owned by them, for all debts of such Banks, and such individual liability shall continue for one year after any transfer of sale of stock by any Stockholder or Stockholders.

I hold myself personally responsible and liable to redeem the bills of this Bank as required by law, in the absence of the Juneau Bank in Wisconsin. CURRENCY.

CITY AUCTION ROOM.

HOME AGAIN, AFTER BEING ABSENT for nearly a month: have seen no city more promising or inviting than our beautiful City, Milwaukee. Find business in all the cities generally dull. Street Sales and Sheriff sales partially in all real estate operations. Money is abundant in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore; in any of the Eastern cities money can be obtained at 6 per cent. for home securities, but it is much preferr not to invest or loan on Eastern property; but that is changing very rapidly. A much better feeling now exists towards the West than there did six months ago. I am in my own mind satisfied that in six months or twelve months we shall see a great reaction in all operations in our city, and still a greater one if we will consent to pay up promptly the interest on our city indebtedness. I came home feeling delighted with Milwaukee. I have seen no place to compare with it, or that I like as well for to exchange it for, and I am satisfied in my own mind that we will go ahead and grow more rapidly the next few years, than we have for the last few years. I am, myself, perfectly contented with Milwaukee. Let us all cheer up. Milwaukee is too much a good place to be overlooked. In connection, I would say, am now ready to attend to my Auction and Commission business in the same old way, and business entrusted to my care will be faithfully and strictly attended to. My Auction Room is very large, and I can store away any amount of Goods.

On my way home through Baltimore, I stopped at Harper's Ferry and obtained one of Capt. Gessmann Brown's Rifles. All who have any curiosity to see this instrument of death, call at my Auction Room. CALEB WALL, Special Notices.

PILES! PILES!! PILES!!!
What Is It? How Cured?

THOUSANDS OF PERSONS HAVE PILES—suffer for years with the disease—yet few know what it is, or how it is cured. Every case of Piles, whether manifested in the form of external tumors, frequent bleeding, or in violent itching and irritation, depends essentially upon congestion of the abdominal venous circulation. This produces the engorgement, dilation of the veins, formation of tumors, hemorrhages, pain and suffering; and the disease can only be fundamentally cured by medicines which, taken internally, relieve this abdominal venous congestion. Hence, ointments, washes, and other injections, are ineffectual. HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC PILE SPECIFIC, a simple sugar pill, taken two or three times per day, cures the disease by curing the condition upon which the disease depends. Hundreds have been cured by it, even of the most obstinate cases. All will be promptly benefitted by it. Price 50 cents a box.

N. B.—A full set of HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFICS, with Book of Directions, and twenty remedies, in large 3-drachm vials, and morocco case, $5; do, in plain case, $4. Family case of fifteen boxes and book, $3.

These remedies, by the single box or case, are sent by mail or express, free of charge, to any address, on receipt of the price. Address,

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL TO PROCURE MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for chi dren teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing inflammation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skilful Female Physicians in New England, and has been used with never failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or any other cause.

If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

THE PUBLIC BLESSING WHICH IS now so universally admitted to exist in Moffatt's Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters, is every day demonstrated by their astonishing efficacy in the cases which they are announced to cure. All the complaints of the stomach and bowels, weakness of the digestive organs and of the system generally, bilious and liver affections, night fevers, head aches, piles costiveness, consumption, rheumatism, scurvy, impurity of the blood, or blotched and sallow complexions, soon yield to their curative properties. A single trial invariably secures them the title of the best family medicine now before the public. For sale by the proprietor, W. B. SNOW.

BY MRS. L. L. DENING.

Whirling, curling down to the ground,
The snow-flakes come with noiseless tread;
Dressing in white the withered flowers,
Forming a curtain in summer bowers,
And a covering for the dead.
Dancing along in frolicsome glee,
Kissing the boughs of the leafless tree,
Pressing its lips to the window pane,
In at the door and out again;
Bedecking the earth in a winding sheet,
As it skips along with its downy feet,
Skimming the air in eddies wild,
Crowning the head of the fair-haired child
With a crystal wreath of feathery spray,
That sparkles awhile, then melts away.
Hither and thither, a fairy fleet,
Sailing down on the frozen street,
Dashing o'er the dreary moor,
Chilling the hearts of the wretched poor.
Borne on the breath of the winter blast,
A feathery throng, it hurries past;
Caressing the brow of the lovely hill,
Hushing the voice of the laughing rill—
It comes to earth a fairy thing,
Turning to tears at the voice of Spring.

A New Sir Charles Goldstream.

MODERN VS. ANCIENT CHIVALRY.

A large party is assembled to celebrate the feast of St. Partridge at Ravelstoke Hall, an old country house about two miles distant from the north-west coast of Devon. The various branches of English society are very fairly represented by its component parts.—There are two peers, three members of the lower house, some Guardsmen, some undergraduates, a clergyman and a lieutenant in the navy. But our hero is not a representative man; yet he belongs to a class which, called into existence by the accumulated wealth of the nineteenth century is ever on the increase.

Frederick Tyrawley resembles Sir Charles Coldstream, inasmuch as he has been everywhere and done everything; but he is by no means used up, and can still take an interest in whatever his hands find to do. Nor is his everything everybody else's everything. It is not bounded by Jerusalem and the Pyramids.

Mr. Tyrawley has fought in more than one State of South America, and has wandered for more than two years from isle to isle of the Pacific. A mysterious reputation hovers round him. He is supposed to have done many things, but no one is very clear what they are; and it is not likely that much information will be obtained from him, for he seldom speaks much, and never speaks of himself. His present mission appears to be to kill partridges, play cricket, and dress himself. Not that it must be supposed that he has ever been in the habit of wearing less clothing than the custom of the country in which he may have been located required; but only at the present time he devoted much attention to buff waistcoats and gauze neckties, braided coats, and curled mustachios.

Such as he is, however, he is an object of interest to the feminine portion of the party at Ravelstoke Hall; for he is rich and handsome, as well as mysterious, and he cannot be more than two-and-thirty. And the ladies at Ravelstoke outnumber the men: for although it is still rare for the fair sex to participate actively in the saturnalia of the partridge-god, they will always be found hovering in considerable numbers on the outskirts of the feast; and the varieties of the British lady are fairly represented.

There are some mammas with daughters to marry, and there are some daughters with a mamma to prevent marrying again, which is, perhaps, the most difficult thing of the two, as she has an income in her own right. There are blondes and brunettes, and pretty, brown-haired, brown-eyed girls who hover between the two orders, and combine the most dangerous characteristics of both, who can wear both blue and pink, and who look prettier in the one color than they do in the other; but who always command your suffrage in favor of that which they are wearing when you look at them.

And there is Constance Baynton, with grey eyes and black hair. And the nicest critic of feminine appearance might be defied to state what she had worn, half an hour after he had left her, for no one can ever look at anything except her face.

Yet Constance is three-and-twenty, and still unmarried. Alas, what cowards men are! The fact is that Constance is very clever; but as Mrs. Mellish (the widow) says: "Not clever enough to hide it."

Is she a little vexed at her present condition? Certainly she does not exhibit any tendency to carry out Mrs. Mellish's suggestion, if it has ever been repeated to her.—The young men are more afraid of her than ever; and certainly she does say very sharp things, sometimes. Especially is she severe upon idlers, the butterflies of fashionable existence. She appears to consider that she has a special mission to arouse them, but they do not appear to like being lectured.—With the young ladies she is a great favorite, for she is very affectionate; and though so beautiful and distinguished, she has proved herself to be not so dangerous a rival as might have been expected. Indeed, it has happened, more than once, that male admiration, rebounding from the hard surface of her manner, has found more yielding metal in the bosoms of her particular friends. Besides, she is always ready to lead the van in the general attack upon the male sex, when the ladies retire to the drawing room.

Not that she ever says anything behind their backs she would not be ready to repeat to their faces; but in that course probably she would not meet with such general support.

In Mr. Tyrawley she affected to disbelieve. She stated as her opinion to her intimate friends, that she did not believe that he ever had done, or ever would do anything worth doing; but that he had plumed himself on a cheap reputation, which, as all were ignorant of its foundation, no one could possibly impugn.

There is reason to believe that in this instance Miss Constance was not as conscientious as usual; but that she really entertained a higher opinion of the gentleman than she chose to confess. He certainly was not afraid of her, and had even dared to contradict her theory of the general worthlessness of English gentlemen of the nineteenth century. It was one wet morning when she had been reading Scott to three or four of her particular friends—and it must be confessed that she read remarkably well—that she began to lament the decline of chivalry. Tyrawley was sitting half in and half out of a range. Perhaps she talked a little at him.

At any rate he chose to accept the challenge.

"I cannot agree with you, Miss Baynton," he said. "It is true we no longer wear ladies' gloves in our helmets, nor do we compel harmless individuals who possibly may have sweethearts of their own, to admit the superiority of our lady love at the point of the lance; but of all that was good in chivalry, of courage, truth, honor, enterprise, self-sacrifice, you will find as much in the nineteenth century as in the twelfth."

He brightened up as he spoke, and it was quite evident that he believed what he said, a circumstance which always gives an advantage to a disputant.

More than one pair of bright eyes smiled approval, and Miss Constance saw a probability of defection from her ranks. She changed her tactics.

"You are too moderate in your claims for your contemporaries, Mr. Tyrawley. If I remember right, modesty has always been considered a qualification of a true knight."

"I am not ashamed to speak the truth," he replied; "your theory would have been more tenable before the days of the Crimean war and the Indian mutiny; but the men who lit their cigars in the trenches of the Redan, and who carried the gate of Delhi, may bear comparison with Bayard, or Cœur de Leon."

"Oh! I do not allude to our soldiers," said she "of course, I know they are brave; but,"—and here she hesitated a moment, till possibly piqued because her usual success had not attended her in the passage of arms, she concluded,—"but to our idle gentlemen, who seem to have no heart for anything."

Tyrawley smiled. "Possibly you may judge too much by the outside," he said.—"I am inclined to fancy that some of those whom you are pleased to call idle gentlemen would be found to have heart enough for anything that honor, or duty, or even chivalry, could find for them to do."

"I hope you are right," said Miss Constance, with a slightly perceptible curl of her upper lip, which implied that she did not think so.

Tyrawley bowed, and the conversation terminated a few minutes afterwards; when he had left the room, the conversation of the young ladies was interrupted by Master George Baynton, aged fourteen, who suddenly attacked his sister.

"I think you are wrong, you know, when you call Tyrawley a humbug"

"My dear," said Constance, with a start, "I never said anything so ru—"

"Well, you implied it, you know, in your girl's words, and I think you made a mistake; for he can shoot like one o'clock, never misses a thing, and I hear he can ride no end.—He was rather out of practice in his cricket when he came down; but he is improving every day. You should have seen the hit he made yesterday—right up to the cedars."

"Do you think there is nothing else for a man to do, but ride and shoot, and play cricket?"

"Oh! that's all very well; but you should hear what Merton, our school master, says; and a great brick he is, too: 'Whatever you do, do it as well as you can, whether it is cricket or verses' And I believe if Tyrawley had to fight, he'd go in and win, and no mistake."

"Ah!" said Constance, with a sigh, "he has evidently—what is it you boys call it?—tipped you. Isn't it?"

Indignant at this insult, George walked off to find his friend, and have a lesson in billiards.

The day lingered on, after the usual fashion of wet days in September in full country houses. There was a little dancing after dinner; but all retired early in hopes of a finer day on the morrow.

Tyrawley had some letters to write, so that it was past two before he thought of going to bed. He always slept with his window open, and as he threw up the sash, a fierce gust of wind blew out his candle, and blew down the looking glass.

"Pleasant, by Jove!" he soliloquised. "I wonder whether it's smashed—unlucky to break a looking-glass—I'm hanged if I know where the matches are: never mind; I can find my way to the bed in the dark. What a night. What a night," as a flash of lightning illumined the room for a moment, and he bent out of the window. "The wind must be about nor'-nor'west. Cheerful for anything coming up to Bristol from the southward. I wonder what a storm is like on this coast. I have a great mind to go and see. I shall never be able to get the hall door open without waking them up; what a nuisance! Stay, capital idea! I'll go by the window."

Before starting on his expedition, he changed the remains of his evening dress (for he had been writing in his dressing-gown) for a flannel shirt and trousers, whilst a short pea-jacket and glazed hat completed his array. His room was on the first floor, and he intended to drop from the window-sill; but the branch of an elm came near, he found that unnecessarily, as springing to it he was on the ground like a cat in an instant. He soon found his way across the country "like a bird," to the edge of the cliff. The sea for miles seemed one sheet of foam.

But a flash of lightning discovered a group of figures about a quarter of a mile distant; and he distinguished shouts in the intervals of the storm.

He was soon amongst them, and he found that all eyes were turned on a vessel which had struck on a rock within two hundred yards of the cliff. It was evident that she would go to pieces under their very eyes.

THE SENTINEL.

COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY EVENING, November 21st.

Money Matters.

Exchange was close to-day, as it has been for some days past, with a constantly increasing supply, and we understand that all the city banks have agreed upon an advance of ¼ per cent. in the selling rate, to go into effect to-morrow, the 22nd. This will bring the price here up to Chicago rates. Currency is in good supply with indications of accumulating to an uncomfortable extent, the demand for buying produce being comparatively light, and business generally slacking off as winter approaches. Discounts at the legal rate are easily obtained on good business paper.

Commercial.

The wheat market was rather weak this morning until after the receipt of despatches announcing the arrival of another steamer with foreign news, followed by an improvement of 1c in wheat and 5c in flour at New York, when Saturday's figures were firmly maintained. Sales were about equal to receipts at the following prices: 93@94c for Extra Club; 90@92c for Club, delivered; 88c for No. 1 on track at southern depots, 83¾@89c at northern roads, and 90c on board, and 86c for No. 2; the market closing with a great deal of steadiness. There was no perceptible change in flour. Country Spring Extra sold at $4,90 to $4,50 for common to good brands; and Superfine at $4. No tip-top brands were in the market. The demand was not active, but holders appeared firm, and buyers rather reluctant to pay the prices asked. Dressed hogs found quick sale to-day, buyers competing more actively for what was on the market than at the close of last week, under the influence of decreased receipts, and round lots sold in some instances 10@15c better than on Saturday. In the afternoon some three or four hundred head in lots of 40 to 80 averaging 170 to 200 pounds sold at prices ranging from $5,25 to $5,50, and one lot of 46 head dividing on 150 pounds sold at $4,50 to $5. Round lots averaging 150 to 200 pounds sold freely towards evening at $5,40 to $5,50. Receipts thus far this season are as follows:

Received by rail to-day.....	1,002 head.
Previously reported.....	6,158 "
Total.....	7,160 "

CHICAGO, Nov. 19th.—Receipts: 5,245 bbls flour, 37,000 bush wheat, 27,564 bus corn, 2,087 bus oats, 707 cattle 3,719 live hogs, 550 dressed hogs, and 65,544 lbs hides. The shipments by lake were: 40,969 bu wheat and 24,150 bus corn.

FLOUR—Flour is dull and 10c lower. We note sales to-day of about 900 bbls, among which were 100 bbls Arctic from Wisconsin club at $4,62½; 400 bbls Bartlett's on private terms; 120 bbls Elgin City at 4,40; 200 bbls Key City and 200 bbls Excelsior at 4,30; 450 bbls Cliff ton at 4,25; 50 bbls Osceola at 4 12; 102 bbls Janesville private terms; 188 bbls Bridge City at 3,90; 54 bbls very good superfine at 3,70; 50 bbls Rifle at 3,60.—Sinclair's Bulletin of this afternoon says:

Dealers quote for the respective brands; for white winter wheat those for 3,75@3,75; red do 4,60@4,75; spring wheat double extra 4,25@4,50; spring wheat extra 4,00; common extra 3,70@3,75. Rye flour 3,75@4,00 per bbl. Buckwheat flour 3,00 @ 100 lbs.

WHEAT—The grain market to-day was quiet, unsettled, and lower; the decline amounted to full 2c at one time, but in the afternoon it went back to within 1c of yesterday's prices; we note sales of about 30,000 bu, among which were about 10,000 bus winter wheat, all in small lots and at irregular prices; 1 spring car 5000 bus No. 2 in part at 87c, and 2 cars do on track at 86c, a little at 85c and limited sales No. 2 at 82@83, and No. 3 at 74@75c. Sales in bags include 1 car white winter, spring at 88c, all sold; 300 bus white winter at 90c; 300 bus No. 2 white, by sample, at 2 02; 20 bags do at 1 90, re-sold at 1 95.

PROVISIONS—The provision market is a little more active, and we note sales of 1,000 green hams at 6½c ¾; 2 tons of pork sides at 6½c; a few parcels pork shoulders in bulk at 5½c, at which they are in brisk demand; prime mess pork at 14 50; mess do 13 50@13 75; and extra mess at 14 00@14 50; beef hams 11 00@12 00 green hams 10@10½c; and lard 10½@11c; mess pork $14.—Times.

DETROIT, Nov. 19th.—Receipts: Flour, 1,832; Wheat, 1,603; Corn, 216; Oats, 2,256; Barley, 72. Most of the flour was received by the Michigan Central and Detroit & Milwaukee Railways, for the Eastern markets. The Free Press says of the market:

The market yesterday was very dull, but very few sales being made. For white wheat extra flour holders are asking $5, and for red wheat do, $4,70, while buyers are offering no more than $4,85@, for the former and $4,62½ for the latter. White is nominally the same. A car-load of No. 1 white sold at $1,30, and a car-load of No. 2 do at $1,15. For extra $1,25@1,25 would probably be paid were there any on the market. No. 1 red is not worth more than $1,10@ City, although for a lot offered yesterday $1,10 was asked. Corn is mostly selling at 50@55, with a tendency still downward. Oats are worth 35@36. Dressed hogs are selling mostly at $5.

ALBANY GRAIN MARKET.—The Statesman of Friday evening has the following report of the Albany grain market:

The amount of wheat offering is limited and choice samples bring full rates; the sales include 1,000 bus white Mich. in bk 100c, do red State and 125 and 3,000 do white Canadian 125@126c. Rye is a trifle easier 90@ 92c for Canada in the street and 93@94c for State in the street 90@ 92c; the cargo sales include 3000 bu Canadian 94c. Corn in the street 100c. There is less doing in barley, and the market is without material change; sales 1,000 bus Canada East at 76c and 500 do State two-rowed 72c.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 21st.

STORM AND RAIN.—On Sunday, the wind blew strongly all day, increasing to a gale during the night. Today, the wind is from the East, blowing strongly, accompanied by a cold rain all the afternoon. Last night, and to-day, several vessels ran into our harbor for shelter—among which we noticed the schooners Mark H. Sibley, P. Campbell, Torrent, and a bark, the name of which we could not learn—all bound down with grain. The propeller Evergreen City, of the Collingwood line, came in in fine style, about noon.—The wind being almost directly from the East, there was a heavy sea in the Bay, and when the Evergreen City first hove in sight, frequently all that could be seen of her was her mast and smoke pipe. Quite a number of propellers were in harbor, but the only craft that went out of port was the D. & M. Railway steamer Milwaukee.

ASHORE.—The brig Hampton, with a cargo of staves for Buffalo, is ashore at Point au Pelee, on the west side of the Reef. The Captain came up to Detroit on Friday for a tug to go to her relief.

AGROUND.—The Detroit papers of Saturday report the brig Mohegan, and the schooner Cuba, bound up, hard aground in Detroit river, near the head of Fighting Island.

LIST OF VESSELS passing through the Welland Canal furnished to the Board of Underwriters. The following vessels passed the Port Colborne Locks from 4 o'clock P. M. on the 17th till four o'clock P. M. on the 18th Nov:

DOWN WARD—November 17th: schooners Lowland Lass, Olivia, Patrick Henry, J G Beard; on the 18th, bark Plymouth; schooners Geo Foote, Eagle Wing, J F Warner, New London.

UPWARD—November 17th, none; on the 18th propeller Buckeye.

VESSELS PASSING DETROIT during the 24 hours ending Saturday noon:

UP—Props Iers Dacotah, Chicago, Mt. Vernon, M B Spaulding, Mayflower.

DOWN—Propellers Plymouth, Michigan; schooners International, Mary Williams.

Strong NE wind, with a cold rain.

THE BUFFALO Mutual Insurance Company's wrecking tug Relief, arrived here last evening with the schooner H. N. Farnham in tow, which vessel she found ashore at Point au Pelee. The Farnham goes immediately into Clark's dry dock for repairs. The Relief also succeeded in getting off the brig Hampton, which was also reported ashore not far from the Farnham. The latter vessel's damages are not as serious as was at first apprehended. The Hampton, we learn, sustained little or no injury.—Detroit Tribune Saturday evening.

DR. CHURCHILL'S REMEDY.

WINCHESTER'S GENUINE PREPARATION OF THE

HYPOPHOSPHITES

OF LIME AND OF SODA,

(Made from the Formula of Dr. J. F. Churchill,)

FOR THE PREVENTION AND CURE OF CONSUMPTION!

THE SUCCESS OF THIS NEW REMEDY, discovered by Dr. Churchill, of Paris, is obtaining the most UNBOUNDED POPULARITY throughout Europe and the United States. It is a SPECIFIC REMEDY for CONSUMPTION, and an INVARIABLE EFFICACY in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Diseases.

First Results.—It not only is a curative effect, but will, if used when the disease exists a suspicion of the disease, prevent it. DEVELOPMENT and TUBERCLE, as experience with regard to Consumption, and no exception, does with regard to small pox.

What the Medical Profession Say.

"In no instance have I found the Remedy to fail." —Dr. Churchill.

"I have found your preparation of the Hypophosphites with the most happy effect"—C. Fisher, M. D. Lowville, N. Y.

"Physicians astonished at witnessing the good effects of the Hypophosphites. The statements in your pamphlet are not at all exaggerated. My patient was past recovery when I commenced giving the Hypophosphites."—S. Smith, M. D., Hyde Park, N. Y.

"I regard the Hypophosphites as an vital influence over the tubercular disease by improving the general strength and invigorating the nutritive functions."—Dr. W. E. Jones, Boston.

"I have derived more satisfaction from the use of your Hypophosphites than from all other forms of medicine combined, during my practice of twenty years."—Dr. Clark, Boston.

"In the earliest appearance of the symptoms, the patient takes deep about ten grains of the Hypophosphites, and the disease is arrested in the enjoyment of such healthful life, perhaps, had never known in his lifetime before."

"Physicians of the Hypophosphites are unexceptional in their preparation."—Am. Druggist's Circular.

"Mr. Winchester is worthy of all confidence and deserves himself enthusiastically in cases of prescriptions in all their variety of combination. * * * Prepared according to Dr. Churchill's method."—D. Meredith Reese, M. D., New York.

"Dear Sir,—(July 8, 1859.)—I have had several cases given me by families of consumptive children, and I have used the Remedy in my own case, with decided benefit. I shall not hesitate to prescribe it to physicians and friends, and even by myself, under the right treatment. I can now add to praise, in attending the sick, a remedy for consumption, which, as a true physician in the country."—W. F. Clark, M. D

The Hypophosphites are most appropriate Remedies in large doses of Quinine for curing the Chills and nervous forms."—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Dr. Churchill's Work on Consumption,

IS NOW READY.

The Hypophosphites must be used with incurable success in Chronic Bronchitis, Asthma, Dyspepsia, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

Make no Delay!

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is now for sale by druggists in the United States, and is the only reliable preparation ever proposed by Dr. Churchill "for general use"; and is prepared according to his original Formula.

For Sale, Wholesale and Retail, by HENRY FESS, Jr., Milwaukee, who is authorized to supply THE TRADE at New York prices.

For sale at Retail by J. M. ALCOTT, and by all prominent Druggists.
